PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am a motivated employee who likes to perform his assignment in a creative way and aims for quality.

I adapt fast in changing situations and have strong communicative skills. Flexibility and initiative are my important piers in my way of working. I have experience in working and collaborating with individuals and teams from 3 to 30 persons. I have already build up experience in several different branches: Molecular biology, Cancer biology, Mechanisms that preserve genome integrity, as well as Customer support, Sales, Project managing...The last 3 years I deliberately changed my focus from the basic science point of view to a more functional one and towards the idea to bridge the basic science breakthroughs with the clinical practice. I would like to grow in this direction and like to expand my science interest in combination with skills in a more patient oriented direction.
